Post Details – Collapsed

1

This is a collapsed view of a text post. Only two lines of the main post is shown. Collapsed posts allow you to see more comments without having to scroll down.

2

This is a comment to the main post. The line indicates that it's a direct reply to the main post

3

This is a reply to the first comment (indicated by number 2). The line indicates that it's apart of a thread replying to the first comment

The image shows a mobile application's leaderboard screen. At the top, there is a header with the word "Leaderboard" and a sorting icon (up arrow and three horizontal lines). Below the header is a table with 17 rows, each representing a user's rank, name, and points. The first five rows are clearly visible:

Rank	User Profile	Name	Points
1.	Placeholder icon	FirstName LastName	999 pts
2.	Placeholder icon	FirstName LastName	99 pts
3.	Placeholder icon	FirstName LastName	88 pts
4.	Placeholder icon	FirstName LastName	77 pts
5.	Placeholder icon	FirstName LastName	66 pts
3	Placeholder icon	Click to Expand	▼
16.	Placeholder icon	FirstName LastName	2 pts
2	Placeholder icon	Current User	1 pts
10.	Placeholder icon	FirstName LastName	0 pts

Below the table, there are five navigation icons: Feed (two people), Rankings (trophy), Workout (plus sign), Training (runner), and Messages (speech bubble).

Leaderboard Screen

- 1 The leaderboard displays the rankings of each person on the team with their profile picture, name, and how many points they have accumulated
- 2 The leaderboard displays the top 5 people on the team, the user's current position and those 1 spot above and below the user
- 3 Since the leaderboard only displays the top 5, there is an option to display the rest of the athletes between number 5 and the user's current ranking

Additional Workout Information

- 1 Users can tap on anyone on the ranking to show the last 10 recent workouts the athlete has finished
  - 2 The details show the workout name, the date of the workout and how many points the workout was worth
  - 3 Users have the ability to recollapse the additional information by either pressing the downward arrow or by tapping on the athlete tile again

Sort By

- 1 The icon at the top of the screen lets users know how the leaderboard is currently sorted by. Pressing it will allow users to change the sorting
- 2 After pressing the button (1), a menu comes up that lets users to select how they specifically want to see the leaderboard ranked by
